Until further notice the Middletown Public Library will be open on Tuesday afternoon, from 3:30 to 5; Saturday afternoons, from 3 to 5; Saturday evenings, from 7 to 8:30. Beginning October 1st.

The show given each evening in the square by a traveling medicine company is attracting much attention. The black faced comedian has a fine voice and his jokes are new and afford much merriment.

Mr. Annie Stuart, of near Sassafras, Md., left at THE TRANSCRIPT office this week a fine basket of very large apples of the "Fallwater" variety. They are very large, one of them weighing 1 1/2 ounces.

Unclaimed Letters.—The following list of letters remains unclaimed in the post office for the week ending Sept. 18th: Miss Lida Archie, Thos. J. Baries, William H. Dutton, Charles Jeffers, Wm. J. Smith.

The new concrete pavement in front of the Middletown Manufacturing Co.'s store and the Globe Clothing Store has been completed, and is a great improvement to the appearance of the property and the town.

FALL AND WINTER OPENING OF 1902.—We cordially invite you to attend our Millinery Opening on October 8th, 9th and 10th, 1902. Music furnished each day from 10 to 11 A. M. and 2 to 3 P. M. MRS. G. W. PETERSON, Middletown, Del.

Miss Lillian Scott's millinery parlors on East Main street are attracting much attention. Her fall openings yesterday and to-day, show many charming novelties, and the display is notable in every way for its artistic elegance. Be sure to call to-day and inspect the up-to-date head-ware.

While riding a horse last Sunday afternoon Henry Whitlock, son of Mrs. Mattie Whitlock met with a painful accident. The animal stumbled, threw the little fellow violently to the ground, dislocating one of his shoulders. Dr. C. A. Ritchie dressed the wound, and the lad is improving.

Before starting fires in stoves which have not been used during the summer have the chimneys examined and cleaned. A fool chimney has been responsible for the destruction of many a home. We have noticed that many fires originate in the fall when disused stoves are first brought into regulation. A little care and attention now may save some heavy loss and discomfort in the near future.

Farmers are now busy preparing the ground for wheat. Some few will need this week. The recent rains have been very helpful in making easy plowing.

An old saying is that three days in September, 20th, 21st and 22d, rule the weather for October, November and December. If so we may expect three very wet months.

Quality is the one thing that distinguishes an article, that makes it better, more desirable, and more satisfactory than other similar articles. There's good quality in The Sherwin-Williams Paint. Sold by J. F. McWhorter & Son.

The New Century Club will commence their weekly meetings on Tuesday afternoon, October 14th, at the usual hour. The program at the opening session will consist of greetings and a social tea. All of the members are requested to be present.

Bethesda Epworth League meets in the lecture room every Sunday evening at 6:45 o'clock. Everybody is invited to attend. The topic for next Sunday evening is: "Resume of Progress of Methodist Missions." Psa. 115:1-3. Mrs. A. G. Cox, leader.

I wish to inform my friends and the public that I am going back and forth to Wilmington each day and will be pleased to purchase for them anything in dry goods, notions, etc. Please leave orders at my home on Cass street, Middletown. EUGENE BEASTON.

The cantata, "Gunderlin in Flower Land," under the auspices of the primary department of the M. E. Church, will be rendered in the opera house on Friday evening, October 17th. Proceeds for the benefit of the improvement fund of the M. E. Church.

My friends of Mr. Franklin Stephens learned with much regret of his death which occurred in Chester on Sunday, September 28th. Interment was held in Wilmington on Thursday, Mr. Stephens was a resident of Middletown for many years.

As usual the approach of fall has brought out a crop of prophets who are predicting all sort of weather for the winter. The chances are that they won't know for certain what we are to have any sooner than the rest of us and we won't know until we have it.

NOTICE.—We have on hand and for sale three second hand Bickford & Huffer Drills, with latest phosphate and wheat and feed in perfect order and guaranteed in every respect.

J. F. McWhorter & Son.

Rev. C. T. Wyatt, pastor, will preach in Bethesda M. E. Church to-morrow both morning and evening. Subjects: Morning: "True Greatness." Evening: "Stilling the Tempest." All are cordially invited to attend these services.

The continuous rains has backed farmers with their work in which they were full handed and scarce of help. They say there is no implement now so much needed as a perfect harvester. The present harvester is high in price, yet so unsatisfactory in their working, only a few are in use in this locality.

The regular monthly business meeting of the Woman's Home Missionary Society will meet at the home of Mrs. Martin B. Burris, on North Broad street, at 7:30 o'clock, on Monday evening, a full attendance is requested. Mrs. C. C. Browne, of Wilmington, will be present and have charge of the meeting.

The Young Peoples Society of Christian Endeavor of Forest Presbyterian Church, meets every Sunday evening at 6:45 o'clock. A cordial invitation is extended to everybody. The topic for to-morrow evening is: Missionary heroes. "Cheerful Amid Adversity." Acts 17:23-34. Leader, Dr. G. B. Pearson.

The tomato crop of this year, memorable in many ways, is nearing its end. It is most likely from its lessons the contract system is doomed. If men mean what they say the canner as well as the grower will next year resort simply to the open market, in which case the grower may expect the price to be gauged according to the demand and condition in which they may be offered on the market.

As the producer, buyer or canner all feel they have interests to serve and risks to run, the new system will afford an all round chance, and with a large production next year which is likely to happen from the experience of the two past years, there will be interesting times.

The Junior Society of Christian Endeavor of the Forest Presbyterian Church held its first fall meeting last Saturday and elected the following officers: President, Ethel Rowe; Vice President, Blanche Deakney; Secretary, Mary Lewis; Organist, Maude Deakney; Treasurer, Helen Rowe. Prayer Meeting Committee—Mary Lewis, Jess Metten, Rosie Weber, Madeline Pennington, Elva Lockerman. Lookout Committee—Helen Rowe, Fannie McCrone, Edith Francis, Miriam Berkman, Viola Weber. Social Committee—Maude Deakney, Annie Shallos, Lesh Berkman, Emma Minner, Lena Weber, Emma Pennington. Missionary Committee—Prudence Lewis, Edith Shallos, Addie Pennington, Elma Deakney, Elsie Minner.

Mr. H. C. DeValinger has just completed one of the best equipped steam outfits for the manufacturing of sausage of all kinds, scrapple, lard, etc., in the State. The new building in the rear of his store is 12x28 feet, with cement floor, and nicely sheathed. The outfit consists of a new ten-horse power boiler and engine, two of the latest improved steam jacket boilers, a large sausage machine, with a capacity for making 150 pounds per hour, and one of the latest improved lard presses. Mr. DeValinger is a hustler, and it is necessary to add these improvements in order to accommodate his customers. In the future he will make a specialty of wholesaling sausage, lard, scrapple, etc., and with the latest improved machinery and steam power he is in a position to compete with the largest manufacturers.

MIDDLETOWN SHOOTING ASSOCIATION.

SALEN OPERA HOUSE

A house packed to the doors greeted the popular comedians, Conroy & Mack, and their clever company, Saturday night. "The dangers of New York" was their opening bill and it went with a win and dash and kept the audience constantly laughing and applauding. It is one of the best comedy dramas ever produced at popular prices. The company this season is the best ever seen here in repertoire. Every member is an artist. The specialties are all first class, they are deserving of a week of packed houses which always greet Conroy and Mack.

Last night they were again greeted by another crowded house when they produced the comedy war drama, "The Daughter of Cuba." This play has a strong hold on the public as it went even better than ever.

Middletown's Great Outfitters. A Long Felt Need. Middletown Needed Another Fine Store, Different From Any of the Stores Which are Already Here.

The demand for a store containing goods to beautify the person, as well as the home, has been apparent, but what was needed was a fine store where qualities and styles are what they ought to be, and where there is no extra tax for what that store knows. It is our intention to give the people advantages heretofore denied them, a city store in the country, with city prices and city styles. The selections of goods have been made with great care and a thought to the people's wants. Buy here and save money and time. Goods delivered free.

Man-Tailored Jackets, Correct Styles, Perfect in Fit and Finish.

HANDSOME JACKETS.—The materials are fine quality of Broad Cloth and Beaver Cloth. Beautifully tailored, strapped seams, man-tailored collars and revers, new shaped sleeves, with stitched cuffs. Black, caeter and brown. A good $8.00 value for $6.00.

JAUNTY JACKETS.—The materials are fine quality Voroomb Cloth and lustrous Broad Cloth. Double breasted blouse or box front, tailor stitched throughout, with broad straps of material, yoke backs, new shaped velvet collars, lined throughout with Skinner's best grade satins. $14.00 kinds here for $12.00.

MONTE CARLO COATS of black, blue, red and green Voroomb Covert Cloth, 31 inches long, hanging full and loose all around, tailor stitched throughout with broad straps of material. New shaped sleeves, standing turn-over collar of velvet, with stitched cloth edge. Lining of best quality satin. Well worth $20.00; very moderately priced at $15.00.

SWAGGER JACKETS OF VOROOMB CLOTH.—Desirable coats for dress wear. The entire jacket is cut in one piece with stitched lap seams. Velvet collar and man-tailored revers. Lined throughout with fine grade peau de soie. A bargain at $25.00. Our price, $18.00.

These prices are the results of the methods of this store—buying largely, buying from the best makers, buying for spot cash and giving our customers the benefit of such prices.

Some more of those beautiful Ladies' Tailored Suits coming in. 20 different styles and at prices equally low. That's what makes them go so fast. Come and see them.

A Few Interesting Facts About Furniture—Enamelled Beds, Mattresses, Springs, Carpets, Rugs, Pictures, Matting, Linoleums, Etc.

ELEVEN QUARTER HEAVY ALL WOOL DOUBLE

... For Love of a Tomboy ...

BY JOHN FORD.

REGGIE COUSINS and Maurice Blount had been close friends as long as the former could remember. In casting mental glances back across those years of affection and close union between them I often wondered what had prompted their intimacy in the first place. Blount was some five years older than Cousins, being a staid, rather matter-of-fact man of thirty at the time when fate threw the two friends into the constant society of Monica and Maudie Finlay, the colonel's orphaned nieces. Blount, however, was a captain and Cousins merely a lieutenant. He was extremely boyish for his age, seldom taking anything seriously. The whole world seemed to be to him "one huge joke," as he himself expressed it, but it was his hearty laughter, his mischievous pranks and his good-natured temperament that endeared him to all his fellow officers. But first and foremost in the young man's heart stood Maurice Blount. This affection was fully returned, and they were known as the "Inseparables."

Of course it was almost a foregone conclusion that the arrival of Monica and Maudie on the scene was bound to make a difference to one or other of the two officers, although they had hitherto been known to declare that neither intended to marry, and that each found all he could desire in the close comradeship of the other. But it was more than unfortunate that they should simultaneously lose their hearts over the younger of the sisters, Maudie. Monica was, if anything, lovelier than Maudie, her gray eyes were full of a winsome wisdom that won the hearts of everyone of us, always excepting those of the "Inseparables." It was apparently in their affairs of the heart that the two friends parted. Monica followed in the senior's footsteps, laying his hand and fortune at the feet of Maudie Finlay.

It was a puzzle how they came to pass over the sweeter, gentler, elder sister, to fall victims to the boisterous, rather tomboyish charms of the younger. Maudie only tossed her head at them, delighting in their devotion, which was clearly of the faithful-dog-fetters-and-carry order, merely because it gratified her vanity, she having perceived how well informed that neither Captain Blount nor Lieutenant Cousins had ever been known to fall in love before.

I was on sick leave at the time this was happening, but I heard it all, with somewhat exaggerated details, when I rejoined, and the odd part of the business appeared to be that both apparently saw through the girl they worshipped!

The elder man had been heard rebuking the younger for his foolishness in allowing himself to be played with by the heartless coquette, and the younger man had been seen peering about not to go near the fascinating Maudie on various occasions. It was mysterious, to say the least.

At dances they vied with each other in obtaining the greatest number from the younger Miss Finlay. At picnics, they outdid each other to the best of their abilities in carrying tempting dainties to Miss Maudie, in seeing after her comfort in every possible way. Neither of them entered for the "Thread and Needle Race" at the sports because Maudie could not be partner to them both.

And all this while Monica was practically left to herself, not that the entire regiment behaved as idiotically as I did—and I tried—to help you by—oh, you know—but you wouldn't take the best—always left the best—for me."

"Oh, Reggie, Reggie, don't!" Cousins' eyes fixed themselves on me. "It's all up," he said. "Tell—Maudie—not to be long."

With a great sob of unutterable misery Blount fell across the body of his friend.

Every spare moment I had I spent by Blount's bedside after that. But life was despaired of for him, and he did not care to stay. Reggie's dying words seemed to haunt us for nights after, for we knew Maurice was obeying his chum's last request.

But from the lips of the captain a very little while before the end I learned the answer to the riddle that had puzzled us for so long.

It was only a wonderful piece of self-sacrifice on both their parts. Each had loved Monica in the depths of his heart and each had tried to leave her—peerless as they knew her to be—for the other.

"We blinded each other so completely to the true state of affairs," Blount said with a sad smile, "that I think if we had gone home we should both have asked Monica to marry us, believing the other to be really in love with Maudie."

Then one day I found myself telling of the tragedy of Hafir to Monica, and I told her of the love of the "Inseparables."

"It will not hurt you to know it?" I asked.

I was anxious, for she wore so strangely sad a look.

THE FORD'S BLACK-DRAUGHT FOR CONSTIPATION

Constipation is nothing more than a clogging of the bowels and nothing less than vital stagnation of life. If not relieved, it is a constant source of suffering and may lead to the most serious complications. It is a disease that is often overlooked, but it is a disease that is always present. The Ford's Black-Draught is a powerful laxative that cleanses the bowels in a safe and natural manner. It is a medicine that is always ready to be used, and it is a medicine that is always effective. It is a medicine that is always safe, and it is a medicine that is always pleasant to take. It is a medicine that is always available, and it is a medicine that is always reliable. It is a medicine that is always good, and it is a medicine that is always true.
